

THE BITFURY GROUP ANNOUNCES AGREEMENT TO SUPPORT EY BLOCKCHAIN PROJECTS

Bitfury will provide Blockchain software services to EY in TMT (technology, media, and telecoms), energy, pharmaceutical, and public service sectors

LONDON – November 7, 2016— The Bitfury Group, the leading global full-service Blockchain technology company, announced today that it has signed a MOU with leading professional services firm EY to test Blockchain software solutions within the EY client network.

This agreement comes after The Bitfury Group won “Best Pitch” for its Blockchain solution for digital rights management at the EY Startup Challenge Showcase Day, the culmination of a competitive six-week program held in Canary Wharf, London. During this time, The Bitfury Group explored multiple use cases with more than 20 EY client companies seeking to integrate Blockchain technology.

“We are deeply honored to work with leading global professional services organization EY to offer Blockchain technology solutions to their strong client network,” said Valery Vavilov, CEO of The Bitfury Group. “Our partnership will bring Blockchain technology to even more companies and countries to help improve their business operations, efficiency and security.”

“We are excited to be bringing together Bitfury's established position as a blockchain leader with our focus on helping clients transform their businesses through blockchain in a secure, robust and trusted way,” said Ben Taylor, Chief Innovation Officer, Assurance, EY.

EY is a global professional services firm that helps clients execute quickly while focusing on value, providing confidence and trust to each client and project. The Bitfury Group and EY will jointly explore opportunities using Blockchain technology to enhance the value delivered to EY's clients, while also leveraging EY's reach into more than 75 percent of the Fortune 500 companies in over 150 countries.
